1. We've Moved!

After twenty years on Orange Street, AVL is in the process of changing its address. We're now across town tucked behind a huge (aren't they all?) Home Depot.

We are very excited about our new digs. The Management staff has already moved and are firmly ensconced in new offices. The Metal Shop is fully operational in the new facility. The Wood Shop, Assembly, and Shipping are still on Orange Street. We expect to have them here by the end of September.

The new address is: 3851 Morrow Lane, Suite 9, Chico, California, 95928-8305, USA.

All phone numbers, fax numbers, and e-mail addresses are the same ... tel 530 893-4915; toll-free 800 626-9615; fax 530 893-1372; e-mail info@avlusa.com.

2. Used Loom Bonanza! In the midst of all the moving excitement, we suddenly find ourselves surrounded by a host of Previously Owned AVLS. We came across a treasure trove of five units, which pumped up our supply and as a result has lowered the potential price (All praise Adam Smith for the good old law of supply and demand!).

So currently we have eight AVL Inspected and Reconditioned Looms to choose among (A.I.R. looms), with two more on the way. Remember, when we sell a previously owned AVL, we go over the whole thing from stem to stern; clean it up; check its functionality; put a One Year Warranty on it; and service it as if it was purchased new. If you or any of your friends are looking, then now is the time!

3. Apologia. Moving isn't easy. Everyone knows that. We have tried to reduce our inventory (so we don't have to ship across town), but have tried to keep up with the orders on the books. It hasn't always worked out. Some looms have been delayed and as close to 150 of you know we are terribly far behind on our hot new product, the Warping Wheel. The new machinery we have on order should help immensely with the Warping Wheels.

But we need to get it going first. We ask you to bear with us and look forward to a brighter more efficient day when we are running like a 21st Century company.
